Maryland Transfer Advantage Program encourages participants to enroll in courses at the University of Maryland

The Maryland Transfer Advantage Program allows you to receive a 25% course tuition scholarship on one course each semester that you participate in the program with a maximum of 3 courses (9 credits) taken over three semesters. Please see: <http://www.umd.edu/bursar/Tuitionfees.html> for information about student fees that will give you access to all benefits available to University of Maryland students.

This benefit is for Maryland Transfer Advantage Program students who are currently enrolled in one of the partner community colleges. To take advantage of this benefit you must have completed 15 credits at the community college. (<http://www.admissions.umd.edu/admissions/apply/MarylandTransferAdvantage.asp>).

Procedure to enroll in a University of Maryland course:

- Meet with your community college counselor/advisor to determine the most appropriate courses to take at Maryland. Review the 4-year plan of a major that interests you. See 4-year plans for all Maryland degrees at: <http://www.4yearplans.umd.edu>. Some programs at Maryland are limited enrollment majors. Read carefully: <http://www.lep.umd.edu/>. Determine which courses you will complete at the community college and which courses you will take at Maryland. In the first two years of a Maryland major 4-year plan, you may find required courses that are not offered at your community college. When choosing courses to take as a Maryland Transfer Advantage Program Student, we recommend you consider these courses (required by the Maryland degree programs and not offered at the community college) as a first choice.
- Check course prerequisites
Often courses will require a prerequisite. Before selecting a course at Maryland, you must read the course description and be sure that you have completed or are enrolled in the course prerequisites. If you enroll in a Maryland course that requires a prerequisite, Maryland will need confirmation of successful completion of the course prior to the class start date. Prerequisites can be found in the Maryland Course Catalog (www.umd.edu/catalog) or the Schedule of Classes (<http://www.testudo.umd.edu/ScheduleOfClasses.html>).
- Establish course availability:
Course availability is limited by various factors:
 - All Maryland courses are not offered every semester. Check carefully the current schedule of classes (online or printed) to determine course offerings. (see <http://www.testudo.umd.edu/ScheduleOfClasses.html>).
 - There are a limited number of available seats. Refer to the online Schedule of Classes to determine the seat availability in courses. Please choose courses where seats are available. We cannot guarantee registration for courses where seats are not available.
 - Some courses at Maryland are restricted by "permission only". Your community college counselor/advisor must contact the appropriate Maryland academic department to acquire this permission.
 - Some courses are restricted to "majors only". These courses are restricted to Maryland students who have declared majors and are not available to MTAP students.
- Receive permission to register for a Maryland course
You must receive permission to register for a Maryland course from your community college counselor/advisor. You must discuss courses with your community college counselor/advisor and receive a signature on this form.
- Complete Course Interest Survey
Provide two course options on the Course Interest Survey (see opposite side of this form).
- Send Course Interest Survey to Maryland at the address below. We will contact you to complete the registration process.
